The Right Seal, the First Time

Your Expert Source for Semiconductor Seals

Tired of replacing your expensive O-rings before scheduled PM? H&D understands downtime can cost millions, but you can't risk exposing your valuable semiconductor components to chemical attacks and contamination. That is why our engineering team sources more plasma-resistant and low-particle-generating bridge materials at a price point you can afford.

Semiconductor Sealing Services You Can Count on

- Seal failure analysis to prevent catastrophic equipment failures due to O-ring degradation
- Large inventory and in-stock seal kits with standard overnight shipping
- Design and manufacturing of custom-molded and machined sealing solutions
- Inventory of customer-specific seal kits and designated parts to ensure timely access

Durable Semiconductor Seals for Extreme Conditions

- O-rings
- Gate seals
- Spring-energized seals
- High-performance plastics
- Door seals

Your Satisfaction Is Our Ultimate Goal

We take pride in going the extra mile to ensure your satisfaction, delivering personal and timely responses to your product and customer service needs.

Accuracy

We understand that inaccuracy in product delivery can lead to costly downtime, which is why we have quality systems in place to ensure the accuracy and quality of all our products and services.

Access

A large, in-stock inventory of seals and seal kits and long-standing relationships with top-of-the-line, global suppliers enables the fastest access to the highest-quality semiconductor seals.

Expertise

Over 50% of our professional employees are engineers who pride themselves on collaboration, innovation, and exceptional service to solve your most pressing semiconductor sealing challenges.

H&D proudly serves the hydraulic, oil and gas, semiconductor, and other industries.
